Case study: Leveraging AI to expand BPR programs

An innovative team at Radiology Partners worked to expand the practice's best practice recommendation (BPR) program by leveraging Artificial Intelligence (AI).

Read the case study on the American College of Radiology website to learn how Dr. Nina Kottler partnered with a group of data scientists led by Kelly Denney to successfully implement this new system. Together, they developed AI algorithms for five BPRs, helping to achieve 100% adherence to some guidelines.
