

RP women physicians who inspire

February 3 is National Women Physicians Day, celebrated annually to mark the birthday of the first female doctor in the United States, Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell.

With this in mind, meet the women physician leaders at RP who inspire us every day in their work, through clinical excellence, collaborative innovation and compassionate care. While we can't list all of the women physicians who inspire us, we invite you to join the conversation. Connect with us on Twitter, LinkedIn and Instagram and post a comment to let us know who inspires you!
